

President's Notes

Growing Strong in 2015

We're so happy to be settling into our new Studio in the North wing of Lowe Mill. Many artists have expressed interest in coming back to HAL, and we're going to expand operations to include them! More great artwork for everyone to enjoy. If YOU want to become a HAL Exhibitor in the Gallery, pick up an info packet at the Desk.

Occasionally we hear from folks having trouble finding us! If you can find Lowe Mill (map on back), just park by the famous "water tower". Look for an entrance marked "Elevator". Take that to the second floor and tell the operator you're looking for Huntsville Art League. When they let you out, HAL will be straight ahead! No problem.

Feb. 14 will be Collector's Draw! It will be held right inside the Gallery this year. If you want to join the fun, we will be selling tickets till it starts at 4:00. For more information or tickets, come to HAL, or go online at www.huntsvilleartleague.org

Jennifer Stottle Taylor, Artist

Our guest speaker for the February 17th Monthly meeting will be Jennifer Stottle Taylor. Jennifer works out of Studio 203 in Lowe Mill, located just across from the elevator on the second floor corridor. Her impressive impasto paintings catch every eye that nears her expansive studio. Energy and freedom abound in her work. She began painting in 2001 and rapidly found acceptance for her pet portraits and people portraits. Commission work keeps her very busy. Her paintings can be found throughout the Tennessee valley and in galleries well beyond. She has graciously agreed to share her knowledge and experiences about marketing and salesmanship. Come join us for a delightful and informative evening with artist, Jennifer Stottle Taylor; February 17th, 7PM at the HAL Gallery.
